

Security +

CompTIA Security+™ Certification

The CompTIA Security+ vendor-neutral certification exam is the worldwide standard of competency for foundation-level security practitioners.

Security+ and Your Career

Theft and destruction of intellectual property takes place despite the presence of firewalls, encryption and corporate edicts. Neither technologies nor policies alone offer effective information security. The IT industry must have a well-trained work force to effectively combat hackers and decrease financial losses.

The demand for skilled security professionals is growing significantly. The technology community identifies Security+ as the perfect way to validate your knowledge of information security.
